1. Curriculum Statement

Intent

In line with the National Curriculum 2014, all schools must provide a curriculum that is broadly based, balanced and meets the needs of all pupils. Under section 78 of the Education Act 2002 and the Academies Act 2010, a PSHE curriculum:

- Promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils at the school and of society, and
- Prepares pupils at the school for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life.

The National Curriculum advises schools to make provision for personal, social, health and economic education (PSHE), drawing on good practice. At William Patten, PSHE is considered across the curriculum and is a fundamental part of the children's school experience. In maths, children are taught the importance of a growth mindset which supports their self-belief, resilience and perseverance and supports success across the wider curriculum and in social contexts. In humanities, the children learn the significance of their local area and key figures from within it. They also have access to positive role models from the community and this supports their learning in many areas, including religious education and learning about local heritage. Children also have access to positive role models from a range of fields, including STEM ambassadors in science, and learn about a range of career possibilities, as part of careers week in upper KS2. In addition, the emphasis on PSHE across the work of the school, Personal, Social, Health and Economic Education, is taught explicitly as part of the whole-school approach. We believe that successful PSHE supports children's learning capacity and this aspect of the school's work is held in high regard as we believe that it promotes wellbeing and underpins children's development as people.

To support our aims, the school is a member of the DfE funded PSHE Association. We follow the Jigsaw Programme scheme of work, which holds the PSHE Association Quality Mark. Jigsaw PSHE offers a comprehensive, carefully thought-through Scheme of Work which brings consistency and progression to our children's learning in this vital curriculum area. Our approach also supports the "Personal Development" and "Behaviour and Attitude" aspects required under the Ofsted Inspection Framework, as well as significantly contributing to the school's Safeguarding and Equality Duties, the Government's British Values agenda and the SMSC (Spiritual, Moral, Social, Cultural) development opportunities provided for our children.

We aim to ensure that all children:

- Develop confidence and responsibility and to make the most of their abilities
- Prepare to play an active role as citizens in Britain
- Develop a healthy, safer lifestyle
- Develop good relationships and to understand and celebrate the differences between people.

Implementation

Jigsaw covers all areas of PSHE for the primary phase including statutory Relationships and Health Education. The table below gives the learning theme of each of the six Puzzles (units) and these are taught across the school; the learning deepens and broadens every year.

Term	Puzzle (Unit)	Content
Autumn 1:	Being Me in My World	Includes understanding my own identity and how I fit well in the class, school and global community. Jigsaw Charter established.
Autumn 2:	Celebrating Difference	Includes anti-bullying (cyber and homophobic bullying included) and understanding
Spring 1:	Dreams and Goals	Includes goal-setting, aspirations, who do I want to become and what would I like to do for work and to contribute to society
Spring 2:	Healthy Me	Includes drugs and alcohol education, self-esteem and confidence as well as healthy lifestyle choices, sleep, nutrition, rest and exercise
Summer 1:	Relationships	Includes understanding friendship, family and other relationships, conflict resolution and communication skills, bereavement and loss
Summer 2:	Changing Me	Includes Relationships and Sex Education in the context of coping positively with change

At William Patten School, PSHE lessons are taught every other week in KS1 and each week in Reception and KS2. This ensures that we are able to teach the PSHE knowledge and skills in a developmental and age-appropriate way.

These explicit lessons are reinforced and enhanced in many ways which include:

- Word of the Week Assemblies, which explore the aspects of each term's specific themes in greater depth, supporting children to make links to their own lives within and beyond school
- Praise and reward systems,
- A child-informed Learning Charter,
- Positive relationships child to child, adult to child and adult to adult across the school.

We aim to 'live' what is learnt and apply it to everyday situations in the school community. Class teachers deliver the weekly lessons to their own classes. The school's ethos, curriculum design and PSHE lesson coverage promote the following -

- Empathy and compassion (including impact on decision-making and behaviour)
- Respect for others' right to their own beliefs, values and opinions
- Discernment in evaluating the arguments and opinions of others (including challenging 'group think')
- Skills for employability, including Active listening and communication (including assertiveness skills)
- Team working
- Negotiation (including flexibility, self-advocacy and compromise within an awareness of personal boundaries)
- Leadership skills
- Presentation skills

- Enterprise skills and attributes (e.g. aspiration, creativity, goal setting, identifying opportunities, taking positive risks)
- Recognising, evaluating and utilising strategies for managing influence
- Valuing and respecting diversity
- Using these skills and attributes to build and maintain healthy relationships of all kinds

To enrich the school's approach to PSHE and to broaden the curriculum, we organise events and opportunities such as Careers Week and participate in national drives, such as UK Parliament Week. The school's celebration of the annual 'Children's Mental Health Week' also raises awareness and compliments the school's commitment to promoting good mental health. Furthermore, the school offers targeted support to families and children through the onsite 'Place to Be' children's mental health charity provision and this also includes 'Place to Talk' which is available to all children.

In each curriculum area, consideration is given to the school's own context to ensure that learning experiences are meaningful and relevant. Learning experiences themselves are also varied and opportunities for learning outside the classroom are also valued, considered and specifically planned for. Children are provided with opportunities to take pride in and ownership of the school grounds, making use of the edible playground resources and the school's rooftop terrace garden.

Through the involvement of visitors with specialist skills and backgrounds and the careful consideration and planning of trips and real-life experiences, the children are able to build on their knowledge of community and develop the skills they will require for life after education.

Impact

The school has established and maintained a positive learning environment where the children have positive relationships with their peers and teachers. The extent to which the school successfully promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils at the schools is further evidenced through the school's recognition by a number of nationally recognised agencies. The school holds the Council for Learning Outside the Classroom's Quality Mark at Gold standard in recognition for 'continue and progressive learning outside the classroom'. The school also holds the British Council's International School Award, for 'outstanding development of the international dimension in the curriculum'. This recognises the work of the school in promoting global citizenship, which itself is supported through an ongoing collaboration with a partner school in Madrid. With weekly assemblies, we ensure that PSHE remains a constant and relevant part of each child's education.

We regularly maintain up to date training which the subject co-ordinator disseminates to ensure an approach that is informed by current pedagogy and advice from experts, as well as involving the use of recommended resources.

- A full copy of the whole school's progression documents, informed by the Jigsaw Scheme, are available to view on request.

2. Teaching and Learning

PSHE education is taught in a way where children can acquire the knowledge, understanding and skills they need to manage their lives now and in the future. We also ensure that all members of the school community understand their respective roles in relation to teaching and confidentiality.

- Teachers aim to ensure that children are able to learn in the way best suited to their individual needs.

- Lessons have a clear focus and learning intentions and desired outcomes are shared with the children in order for them to understand how to be successful.
- Teachers reassure students that their best interests will be maintained
- Teachers ensure that a safe place is successfully established through the use of an agreed set of rules. This ensures that all individuals are able to contribute and that all contributions are valued
- Ground rules are behaviour focused and implementation in PSHE lessons is consistent and rigorous. This ensures that all are well equipped should sensitive issues arise.
- Where appropriate, children are encouraged to talk to their parents or carers, or attend the onsite Place to Talk provision and are provided with support to do so, with appropriate follow-up and subsequent dialogue with parents and carers, where necessary

3. Assessment

Staff at William Patten are committed to knowing their children well and promote good relationships. Assessment of PSHE and Citizenship is an integral part of every curriculum subject where ever possible. Outcomes and aspects of PSHE are communicated to parents and carers regularly throughout the school year, including at open evenings. End of year reports also convey social and emotional aspects of learning.

It is important for pupils to have opportunities to reflect on their learning, assessment also increases pupils' motivation and improves learning as their raised awareness of their development. Children are active in the assessment of their lessons and are able to review their learning through the use of 'I can' statements which relate to the intended lesson outcomes, as well as longer term goals.

Assessment in PSHE is ongoing and supported through the use of questioning and ongoing observation.

4. Planning and Resources

Each teacher is able to access the central resources for Jigsaw lessons through the Jigsaw website. Lesson plans can then be downloaded in PDF format, along with related resources, such as PowerPoints and specific imagery. Teachers are encouraged to modify lesson slides and the lessons themselves, to ensure that they fully meet the needs of the class and address specifically recognised social and emotional aspects of learning effectively. Teachers also refer to the 'I can' statements for each unit theme to ensure that lessons, including those beyond PSHE, promote their achievement as outcomes. PSHE is embedded across the curriculum. Progression maps in all subjects specify aspects of the school's context that are considered at planning level to ensure contextually relevant learning experiences that support PSHE, including use of the local area, school grounds and specialist resources.

The school will also plan special events, such as Tastes of The World and International evening, which involve the wider school community in the interests of PSHE and link learning to other areas, such as environment and sustainability.

5. Organisation

PSHE is taught as a discreet lesson in all classes from Reception to Y6. Aspects of each termly theme are explored in depth at the beginning of each week through a PSHE focused 'Word of the Week' assembly. The word of the week is displayed by each teacher in classrooms and the subject leader ensures that this is distributed and displayed in shared areas.

Relationships and Sex Education

The DfE Guidance 2019 (p.15) states, "Schools should ensure that...all pupils understand the importance of equality and respect".

The RSE curriculum promotes equality and is in line with the legislation relating to it. Schools, like all public institutions, have specific responsibilities in relation to equality and protected characteristics.

Relationships and Sex Education at William Patten fosters gender and LGBT+ equality, challenging all forms of discrimination and bullying.

Relationships Education

What does the DfE statutory guidance on Relationships Education expect children to know by the time they leave primary school?

Relationships Education in primary schools will cover 'Families and people who care for me', 'Caring friendships', 'Respectful relationships', 'Online relationships', and 'Being safe'.

The expected outcomes for each of these elements can be found further on in this policy.

The way the Jigsaw Programme covers these is explained in the mapping document: Jigsaw 3-11 and Statutory Relationships and Health Education.

It is important to explain that whilst the Relationships Puzzle (unit) in Jigsaw covers most of the statutory Relationships Education, some of the outcomes are also taught elsewhere in Jigsaw e.g. the Celebrating Difference Puzzle helps children appreciate that there are many types of family composition and that each is important to the children involved. This holistic approach ensures the learning is reinforced through the year and across the curriculum.

Health Education

What does the DfE statutory guidance on Health Education expect children to know by the time they leave primary school?

Health Education in primary schools will cover 'Mental wellbeing', 'Internet safety and harms', 'Physical health and fitness', 'Healthy eating', 'Drugs, alcohol and tobacco', 'Health and prevention', 'Basic First Aid', 'Changing adolescent body'.

The expected outcomes for each of these elements can be found further on in this policy.

The way the Jigsaw Programme covers these is explained in the mapping document: Jigsaw 3-11 and Statutory Relationships and Health Education.

It is important to explain that whilst the Healthy Me Puzzle (unit) in Jigsaw covers most of the statutory Health Education, some of the outcomes are taught elsewhere in Jigsaw e.g. emotional and mental health is nurtured every lesson through the Calm me time, social skills are grown every lesson through the Connect us activity and respect is enhanced through the use of the Jigsaw Charter.

Also, teaching children about puberty is now a statutory requirement which sits within the Health Education part of the DfE guidance within the 'Changing adolescent body' strand, and in Jigsaw this is taught as part of the Changing Me Puzzle (unit).

Again, the mapping document transparently shows how the Jigsaw whole-school approach spirals the learning and meets all statutory requirements and more.

Sex Education

The DfE Guidance 2019 (p.23) recommends that all primary schools ‘have a sex education programme tailored to the age and the physical and emotional maturity of the pupils. However, ‘Sex Education is not compulsory in primary schools’. (p. 23) Schools are therefore to determine the content of sex education at primary school. Sex education ‘should ensure that both boys and girls are prepared for the changes that adolescence brings and – drawing on knowledge of the human life cycle set out in the national curriculum for science - how a baby is conceived and born’.

At William Patten School, we believe children should understand the facts about human reproduction before they leave primary school, to ensure that pupils have access to the learning they need to stay safe, healthy and understand their rights as individuals. We define Sex Education as understanding human reproduction and explaining the changes that occur to the body during puberty, that enable the body to reproduce. At William Patten School, puberty is taught as a statutory requirement of Health Education and covered by our Jigsaw PSHE Programme in the ‘Changing Me’ Puzzle (unit). We intend to teach this content during the second half of the summer term. We conclude that sex education refers to Human Reproduction. We will inform parents of their right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of the sex education delivered as part of statutory Relationships and Sex Education, in line with DfE guidance. We will inform parents of the content of this unit for each year group.

6. EYFS

In the early years, children are taught PSHE through all aspects of the curriculum. We acknowledge that nurturing the relationship between home, school and the community can be taught by encouraging children to work, share and co-operate. Children in EYFS are also taught how to become more independent and how to respect one another. They are encouraged to:

- Ask for help and talk to others
- Manage their thoughts and feelings
- Build new relationships
- Show respect to others
- Develop self-confidence and self-awareness

In addition to the above, a weekly lesson will also be taught to children in reception. The content of each unit of work, across each half term, is provided below –

	Being me in my world	Celebrating Difference	Dreams and Goals	Healthy Me	Relationships	C hanging Me

8. Equal Opportunities

The DfE Guidance 2019 (p.15) states, "Schools should ensure that the needs of all pupils are appropriately met.'

All children will be given equal value irrespective of ethnicity, gender, religious and cultural background and special educational needs (SEN). At William Patten, each student is given access to a full range of activities. Teachers are aware of children's prior understanding and attainment and lessons and resources are adapted where necessary to meet all children's needs, ensure accessibility, challenge and inclusion for all.

At William Patten School we promote respect for all and value every individual child. We also respect the right of our children, their families and our staff, to hold beliefs, religious or otherwise, and understand that sometimes these may be in tension with our approach to some aspects of Relationships, Health and Sex Education.

9. Inclusion

We aim to create a learning environment that is inclusive and accessible for all students. Lessons will be taught in a way that is educational, sensitive yet enjoyable and teachers will remain inclusive and meet the needs all children. This is achieved by creating a space that feels safe and will encourage all children to explore their emotions and ask questions through carefully and appropriately planned lessons.

10. Role of the Subject Leader

The PSHE Co-ordinator will be responsible for:

- Ensuring the policy and programmes at William Patten are implemented as agreed
- Supporting staff to assess pupil's progress
- Recommending targets for whole school development
- Providing new resources when and where necessary
- Monitoring PSHE floor books

11. Parents

In order to enable the parents / carers to play an active role in their child's personal and social development:

- Awareness raising sessions on key issues will be actively sought
- Parents will be involved in any development and review of the policy and programme
- The full policy will be made available to parents / carers on request and displayed on the school's website
- The school will inform parents / carers of their child's progress in the annual report

Policy Agreed: September 2022
Policy Review Date: September 2023

12. Relationships Education in Primary schools – DfE Guidance 2019

The focus in primary school should be on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships, with particular reference to friendships, family relationships, and relationships with other children and with adults.

The guidance states that, by the end of primary school:

	Pupils should know...	How Jigsaw provides the solution
Families and people who care for me	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• that families are important for children growing up because they can give love, security and stability.</li> <li>• the characteristics of healthy family life, commitment to each other, including in times of difficulty, protection and care for children and other family members, the importance of spending time together and sharing each other's lives.</li> <li>• that others' families, either in school or in the wider world, sometimes look different from their family, but that they should respect those differences and know that other children's families are also characterised by love and care.</li> <li>• that stable, caring relationships, which may be of different types, are at the heart of happy families, and are important for children's security as they grow up.</li> <li>• that marriage represents a formal and legally recognised commitment of two people to each other which is intended to be lifelong (Marriage in England and Wales is available to both opposite sex and same sex couples. The Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013 extended marriage to same sex couples in England and Wales. The ceremony through which a couple get married may be civil or religious).</li> <li>• how to recognise if family relationships are making them feel unhappy or unsafe, and how to seek help or advice from others if needed.</li> </ul>	All of these aspects are covered in lessons within the Puzzles <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Relationships</li> <li>• Changing Me</li> <li>• Celebrating Difference</li> <li>• Being Me in My World</li> </ul>

Physical health and mental well-being education in Primary schools – DfE Guidance

The focus in primary school should be on teaching the characteristics of good physical health and mental wellbeing. Teachers should be clear that mental well-being is a normal part of daily life, in the same way as physical health.

By the end of primary school:

	Pupils should know	How Jigsaw provides the solution
